HAIL TO THE CHIEF!

Arrival in Victoria of Lord Stanley, Canada's Governor-General.

A Biographical Sketch—Preparations for His Reception—Hearty Welcome.

His Excellency the Right Honorable Sir Frederick Arthur Stanley, G. C. B., Baron Stanley of Preston, second son of the fourteenth Earl of Derby, is the heir presumptive to one of the proudest titles in England. The title in the direct line of succession to which he was born ranks second in precedency among the earldoms in the peerage of England.

THE FIRST EARL.

Thomas Stanley, first Earl of Derby, was himself of a distinguished and ancient line. His successors for three generations had held eminent offices in the state and court under the three monarchs of the house of Lancaster, the last of whom, Henry VI., his father served as lord lieutenant of Ireland and as lord chamberlain of the royal household. The founder of the house of Derby was born May 24th in the first year of Edward IV, 1481, and was summoned to parliament by the title of Baron Stanley.

His marriage with a daughter of Richard Neville, Earl of Salisbury, whose brother, the celebrated Warwick, had placed Edward IV on the throne, introduced him to the favor of that prince. Warwick afterward importuned Lord Stanley to join him in arms against Edward and received a firm denial. Stanley was afterwards entrusted with the command of the right wing of the king's army on the invasion of Scotland by the Duke of Gloucester, where he carried Berwick by assault and performed services that gave proof of military talent.

MARRIED THE KING'S MOTHER.

Richard now became Protector and Lord Stanley continued to rise in royal favor. He was allowed to marry Margaret of Lancaster, mother of King Henry VIII who had become for the second time a widow. Her first husband was the Earl of Richmond, the king's father. Her second was Sir Henry Stafford, son of the great Duke of Buckingham. When she married Lord Stanley, to prove that she only wanted a protector, she took a vow of continency, administered by Bishop Fisher, which document is still extant in Cambridge. The splendor of her rank and vast fortune raised many competitors for her hand.

In the remarkable scene, which ended in the death of Lord Hastings, at the council table of the Tower, Stanley was wounded and arrested. When Richard was raised to the exalted dignity of high constable of England. When the Duke of Buckingham proposed the plan, which cost him his head, of saluting the Earl of Richmond as king, Richard compelled Lord Stanley to lock up the Countess Margaret and to deliver up Lord Strange, his son, as hostage for his father's fidelity.

HIS REPLY TO RICHARD.

Lord Stanley secretly allied his forces with Richmond's, but when the main armies advanced together he held his forces aloof in dreadful hesitation between his affection for the life of his son and the regard to his honor pledged to Richmond. At that instant Richard sent this message to him: "That he had sworn by God's death to cut off Strange's head if Stanley did not instantly join him." The noble Stanley, with Roman spirit, replied that "he had more sons, and would not promise to come to him at that time," and then rushed into the battle for Richmond. Strange was, however, not beheaded, but after the battle delivered to his father. Lord Stanley placed the crown on Richmond's head. This was Henry VII, to whose mother Stanley was married. For his great services the king created Stanley Earl of Derby.

THE RUPERT OF DEBATE.

The fourteenth Earl of Derby, the Governor-General's father, was a brilliant representative of the race and a powerful parliamentary orator. He entered parliament at the age of 21 and is said to have been "remarkable for the management of his breath in long and intricate sentences." In the autumn of 1824 Lord Stanley went on an extended tour through Canada and the United States, and returned to England to denounce "the stubborn spirit of Toryism." He was one of the most ardent supporters of the Reform Bill in 1831.

O'CONNELL'S MATCH.

He was, however, defeated in Preston by a Radical on his appointment as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland under Lord Grey. He held the office during the most exciting period of Irish history, displaying great skill and courage. O'Connell dubbed him "Scorpion Stanley," and vehemently denounced a coercion bill which Stanley passed through parliament. The personal encounters between the Irish Secretary earned for Stanley the title of "Rupert of Debate," applied to him by Sir Bulwer Lytton:

One after one the lords of time advance;
Here Stanley meets—here Stanley scorns the lance!
The brilliant chief, irregularly great,
Frank, haughty, rash—the Rupert of debate.

It was said that O'Connell had at last found his match in Stanley. He passed a National Educational bill for Ireland, and the Irish Temporalities Act, both beneficial measures. He disassociated himself from the Whigs on the Irish church question. He was the recognized leader of the Protectionist party in England, having Disraeli for a lieutenant. After six years of opposition he became in 1858 Premier of England, an office he held thrice. In 1868 he yielded the lead of his party to Disraeli, and in 1869 died at Knowsley, his ancestral seat.

THE PRESENT EARL.

The present Earl of Derby is the Governor-General's brother, and has been a prominent figure in English governing forces since 1830. He held various offices of state in Conservative administrations until 1878, when he split with the Conservatives on the Eastern question, and in 1882 was found in Mr. Gladstone's cabinet, but he differed with the Liberal leader in 1886 on the Home Rule issue, and became a Unionist, since which time he has been unheard of in public affairs.

THE FUTURE EARL.

His Excellency the Governor-General was sworn in to his present high office June 11, 1888, at Ottawa. He was born in London on January 15, 1841, so he is in his forty-ninth year. He was educated at Eton, and entered the Grenadier Guards in 1858, became a captain four years later, and retired in 1865. He is an honorary colonel of the Royal Lancaster Regiment, and takes an active interest in military matters.

In Preston, where the Stanley influence has almost always been predominant, Mr. Stanley stood for parliament and was elected in 1865, but three years afterwards is found sitting in the House of Commons for North Lancashire. He was a Lord of the Admiralty for a few months, and in turn held the following offices: Financial Secretary to the War Office; Secretary of the Treasury and Conservative whip; Secretary of State for War; Secretary for the Colonies, and President of the Board of Trade. For ten years he has, it seems, been indispensable to every Conservative administration.

He at first declined the office he now holds, but it was pressed on him by Lord Salisbury, and as he himself has told it, was finally persuaded. He was created a baron in 1886. He is said to inherit the tastes of his distinguished father. He has deplored the fact that he never had a university education. In 1864 he married Lady Constance Villiers, eldest daughter of the Earl of Clarendon, a Knight of the Garter. They have eight children living, seven boys and one girl about twelve years of age.

THE ELDEST SON.

His eldest son, Hon. Lieut. Stanley, who was baptized Edward George Villiers, accompanies his father to Victoria. He was recently gazetted aide-de-camp. He is 24 years of age, and married in January of this year Lady Alice Maud Olivia, youngest daughter of the Duke of Manchester. The wedding was the swell event of London, royalty graciously attending. He is a lieutenant in the Grenadier Guards, and is very popular, his comrades lining the aisle of St. George's Hanover, on the occasion of his wedding.

Three of the other boys are being educated in England.

LADY STANLEY.

Her Excellency Lady Stanley comes of ancient and distinguished stock, but is as simple and unaffected in manner as anyone could desire. She takes great pleasure in her children and evinces an interest in all charitable work, especially such as benefits women. She recently went down among a newly arrived lot of immigrants at Quebec to see how the women and children were treated. In Toronto it will be remembered last winter Her Excellency declined to be introduced to Mrs. Langtry.

CAPTAIN COLVILLE.

Captain the Hon. Charles Colville, His Excellency's secretary, is the eldest son of Lord Colville, of Culross, K.T., and is 35 years of age.

LIEUT. M'MAHON.

Aubrey Hope McMahon, the popular young aide, is the eldest son of General Thos. McMahon. He is 25 years of age and unmarried. He is a member of the Grenadier Guards and a lieutenant.

SIR JAMES ALEX. GRANT

is a prominent Canadian physician. He was born on the 8th of August, 1829. His father was Dr. Jas. Grant of Edinburgh. When Dr. Grant was one year old his parents removed to Canada. He was educated at Queen's College, Kingston, and McGill, Montreal, and has always enjoyed a lucrative practice at Ottawa.

FREDERICK VILLIERS,

The special artist and correspondent of the London Graphic, was born in London in 1850. He has been through many military campaigns as the special artist of the Graphic in which he made himself almost as famous as the celebrated Archibald Forbes.

THE TURN OUT.

This afternoon the people turned out en masse and the principal streets crowded with pedestrians and decked in holiday attire presented a holiday appearance. It was expected that the landing would take place at 2:30 and at that hour, Wharf street, in the vicinity of the C. P. N. company's wharf was crowded with carriages and pedestrians. In the crowd the gentleman's bodyguard was the most notice able feature, several of the well-known equestrians have excellent mounts.

ARRIVAL IN VICTORIA.

The man-of-war Champion with the distinguished party on board arrived at the outer harbor at 3 o'clock. The Governor-General and suite here boarded the government steamer Sir James Douglas, which conveyed them to the H. B. Co.' wharf, where they disembarked.

On the arrival of the steamer and as the Governor-General stepped on shore a battery stationed at the government grounds, James Bay, fired a salute of nineteen guns. The firing party consisted of a detachment of 27 men from C Battery.

Col. Prior, who, as the side-de-camp to the Governor General in British Columbia, had gone to meet His Excellency at Vancouver, followed Lord and Lady Stanley on shore, accompanied by Capt. Colville, Sir Jas. Alex. Grant, Lieut. MacMahon, Lord Stanley's son and others As they stepped on the landing the military band played the national anthem.

Three companies of the B. C. B. G. A., under Major Nicholles, had marched from the drill-shed in charge of Captain Smallfield and were drawn up to the right of the landing in open order, where the command was turned over to Captain Irving.

THE LANDING.

His Excellency on landing was received by the Mayor, who introduced him to the reception committee, composed of the members of the municipal council, Col. Holmes and staff, consisting of Majors Peters and Nicholles, Capts. Palmer, Dorman, Jones, Sears, Lieut. Matthews.

TO-DAY'S DISPATCHES.

The Withdrawal of the China Steamers—A Marine Accident.

Arrival of the Bear from the Arctic—Davitt Finishes His Speech.

By Postal Telegraph.]

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—J. E. Parker, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, referring to the withdrawal of the steamships between China, Japan and Canada, said last night: "The three old Cunard steamers put on the route a year ago, and also the Port Fairy and Port Augusta, chartered by us, will continue to run. If no other arrangements are made by November 23nd, passenger agents will book to China and Japan via Vancouver, thence by boat to Tacoma, thence by rail to San Francisco. We will pay the American companies their proportion for passengers. We do not anticipate carrying freight. There is plenty of time to charter idle steamers in San Francisco. The withdrawal will cause a hurry with the contracts for the three new ships now being built by the Naval Armament and Construction Company in England. This will now necessitate their being finished in 1890 instead of 1891."

THE PUEBLA'S PROPELLER BROKEN.

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—The steamer City of Puebla arrived from Victoria and Puget Sound ports yesterday morning, being 64 hours from Victoria. This is the longest trip the Puebla has made in some time. Her delay was due to head winds and the loss of two blades of her propeller. She will not be put on the dry dock, but repairs will be made on her while she is discharging and loading at her own wharf, by means of a coffer-dam.

A DEFIANT MAYOR.

Tacoma, Oct. 30.—Mayor Wheelwright yesterday vetoed the ordinance passed last week by the city council, directing the closing of saloons before midnight, to remain closed until 5 a.m. As this was one of the pet measures advanced by the committee of one hundred, the mayor's veto amounts to a declaration of war to the bitter end.

THE ARMOUR FIRE.

Kansas City, Oct. 31.—The fertilizer building, machinery and contents connected with the packing houses of Armour & Co., was what burned Monday morning. Loss $110,000.

RAILROAD SMASH.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 31.—The Chicago and New York express on the Fort Wayne railroad collided with a freight twenty miles from this city this morning. One man was killed and ten injured.

MARINE ACCIDENT.

New York, Oct. 31.—The steamer Kana Waka, belonging to the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, arrived here this morning with the crews of the steamers Cleopatra, from West Point for New York, and the Crystal Wave, bound for Washington, which collided off Deleware Cape and sank yesterday morning. The Kana Waka overhauled the disabled vessels soon after they collided, tried to take the Cleopatra in tow, but both steamers sank within an hour. The Cleopatra had a crew of twenty-six men and the Crystal Wave had fourteen all taken aboard safely.

PUGILIST CUT.

San Francisco, Oct. 31.—Ike Weir, the "Belfast Spider," champion featherweight pugilist of America, who is matched to fight Billy Murphy, the Australian champion, in December, was severely handled by a waitress in a dive last night. The woman opened the quarrel on Weir's refusing to pay for champagne which he had not drunk, and used glasses and bottles on the little fighter until he was very sore.

SOUNDS WELL.

Berlin, Oct. 31.—In an interview today, Count Waldersee, chief of the staff of the German army, said the report that "I desire war is nonsense. I have only the wish that we may be so strongly organized that our enemies may lose all desire to attack us."

DAVITT CONCLUDES HIS SPEECH.

London, Oct. 31.—Michael Davitt, resuming his address before the Parnell commission to-day, contended that Attorney-General Webster was unable to prove by the testimony of Clerk Farragher, of the National League, the assertion that the league had advanced money for the perpetration of outrages and crimes in Ireland. He was sorry that all the books of the league had not been found. The only way he could account for this disappearance was that they had been lost or mislaid during the confusion arising from the suppression of the Irish National League by the government. The books that were produced, however, he asserted, did not reveal anything unconstitutional. He declared that the Times' attempt at moral assassination of the political character of public men was without parallel in political party history of any country. Mr. Davitt, in concluding his address, appealed to the court to say that the Times had not proven its charges. Chief Justice Hannan complimented Davitt on the ability of his address and the assistance he had given the court in connection therewith. Sir Henry James, counsel for the Times, then began his reply.

MRS. MACKAY'S LIBEL SUIT.

London, Oct. 31.—The opening skirmish in the action brought by Mrs. MacKay against the Manchester Examiner for libel, took place in the court of Queen's Bench to-day. The libel consisted of an allegation published in the Examiner to the effect that Mrs. Mackay was a poor widow with two children and that she was a washerwoman for Nevada miners, when Mackay was attracted to her and becoming infatuated married her. The lawyers for Mrs. Mackay contend that the words contained in the article suggest that their client is not a lady by birth or education, nor accustomed to associate with persons of good position. Counsel for the defendant admit the first innuendo but deny the remainder. They have paid ten pounds into court as a proffered settlement of damages. The question raised to-day was whether the payment applied to the whole libel or only to the part which which was admitted. The court ruled that it applied to the latter.

FROM THE ARCTIC.

The Bear Arrives at San Francisco From the North.

San Francisco, Oct. 31.—The United States steamer Bear arrived from Ounalaska this morning. She left here June 10th. She brings confirmation of the news that the schooner J. H. Hamilton, which sailed from San Francisco for a whaling cruise in the Arctic, is supposed to be a total loss, as much wreckage, supposed to be from her, has been found on the Aleutian islands. The natives sealing schooner Otter is also supposed to be lost at Port Clarence. The loss of the whaling bark Big Ohio in Behring Sea and of the Little Ohio in the Arctic Ocean was learned. After leaving Port Clarence the Bear encountered much ice.

On the 27th of July a party of officers from the Bear were sent ashore at Cape Smythe to select a place to build a home of refuge for whalers. A spot was chosen 55 yards from the water near the old Point Barrow signal station. On the 29th the Thetis arrived and assisted in landing of stores for the whaling fleet. On August 13th the ice came in and the entire fleet were shut in. Next day the bark J. A. Rowland lost her rudder. The Bear came to her assistance and towed her to a place of safety and assisted in replacing the rudder.

On the 15th the steam whalers Balena and the Belvidere returned after several days unsuccessful attempting to steam through the ice. On the 16th the Bear took aboard Lieut Bushner and men, who were completing the work on the refuge home. In a few days the ice separated and the vessels got out. At St. Michaels the Alaska Commercial Company's new steamer Arctic went ashore. The Bear went to her assistance and got her off. The steamer sailed from Ounalaska on September 25th for this port.

THE FISHERIES QUESTION.

Col. Tilton Leaves For Washington on Important Official Business.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—Col. Tilton, Deputy Minister of Fisheries, has gone to Washington with important data in connection with the Atlantic fisheries difficulty, which he will submit and explain to the British minister, Sir Julian Pauncefote. A provincial government official said today, that the minister at Washington intimated to the Dominion authorities that it is his intention to open negotiations with the government of the United States for the framing of a new treaty, which will embrace all the international disputes now pending, as soon as he has mastered the facts and contentions in connection with these questions.

The government here looks upon the action of the British government in conferring full power to settle these questions on the English minister with much favor. Heretofore the negotiations have been greatly impeded, owing to the laxity and want of interest shown by the home government. Sir Julian Pauncefote seems anxious to act in harmony with the Canadian authorities, and it is believed in official circles here that the new treaty will be negotiated within the next six months.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

A Resume of Events in the Sporting Arena.

New York is champion. The "giants" defeated Brooklyn on Tuesday by a score of 3 to 2, thus winning six games out of nine and the world's championship.

BICYCLE RECORD BROKEN.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—The seventy-two hour bicycle race ended last night. Only two remained in the race, Rhodes and Desmond. The final score stood: Rhodes, 915 miles, and Desmond 902 miles. Rhodes best the record, which was 904 miles.

THE WRESTLERS.

Articles have been signed by W. H. Quinn, the champion heavy weight wrestler, and Jack Donovan, the Australian wonder, for a wrestling match, collar and elbow, best three in five, for a purse of $300, offered by John Cort of Seattle, and the gate receipts. The match is to take place within twelve days at a place to be named.

Jas. Faulkner defeated the Australian wrestler, Eyton, at Tacoma on Monday night in two straight bouts. Christol has challenged the winner for a match, $500 a side.

FRASER RIVER RIFFLES.

Mr. Ryall of Brandon, who played in Saturday's lacrosse match, has decided to remain in Westminster. He has accepted a position with D. S. Curtis & Co., druggists, and will prove a valuable acquisition to the lacrosse team.

Westminster is patiently awaiting the anticipated reply to the lacrosse challenge which was sent to Vancouver a day or two ago. Everybody hopes Vancouver will accept the terms and definitely settle the championship question.

RACERS ARRIVE.

The North Pacific brought over last evening one horse and sulkey belonging to T. J. Pearsall and five horses, two sulkies, saddles, etc., for G. M. Rouse. These horses comprise both runners and trotters, which will compete in the races at the Driving Park on Saturday and Monday next.

FOUR DAY WALKERS.

Frank Hart, ex-champion long distance pedestrian of the world, and W. J. Riley, his manager, arrived from the Sound last evening. They intend holding a 4-day go-as-you-please race, open to all comers, for $500, divided into four prizes. A number of entries have already been made, among which are Tom Watson, Stokes, Hart, Mogan, Taylor, Irwin and Shade. Entries can be made by applying to F. H. Hart, at the Pritchard House.

PERSONAL.

Items Telling of the Movements of Well Known Persons.

Rev. Donald Fraser has gone up to the mainland for a visit.

George Kennedy, Wellington hotel, Wellington, is in the city.

F. C. Gamble was a passenger from the mainland last night.

A. R. Johnson of Nanaimo came over from the Sound yesterday.

S. M. Robins, of the Vancouver Coal Co., Nanaimo, is in the city.

Mayor Bate of Nanaimo came down today to be present at the festivities.

Chief Engineer Deasy is confined to his house by a severe attack of neuralgia

Wm. Christie, of the C. P. R. telegraph office, is confined to his room with illness.

E. H. Fletcher, P. O. Inspector, was in Calgary on Monday last on official business.

Lieut. Kennedy, R. N., and Dr. Wilson, who have been on furlough to England, joined H. M. S. Champion at Vancouver yesterday.

Mrs. John Grant is a guest at the Buckingham Hotel, Fifth Avenue and Fiftieth street, New York, where she will remain for some time.

Lieut. Gaudet of C. Battery, who was to have acted as side-de-camp to the Lieut.-Governor to-day, was unable to do so on account of a sprained ankle.

Mr. Geo. Lockhart, who has been doing missionary work at Alberni during the summer, is in the city. He leaves for Winnipeg in a few days to resume his studies.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon in Town—The Baptists of Canada and Tax Exemptions.

The Changes and Vacancies in the Senate—What the Cabinet is Doing.

From our own Correspondent.]

Ottawa, Oct. 23.—I had a chat with Mr. Gordon, M. P., British Columbia, this afternoon, having accidentally met his familiar face in the corridors of the departmental buildings. Mr. Gordon who is on a trip to the east with his wife, was very ill in Toronto for some time, having landed there on the 20th of last month, and coming to Ottawa yesterday. While in Toronto he was confined to his room and under medical treatment, but is now greatly improved. He and Mrs. Gordon intend leaving for the Atlantic coast, where they will reside for some time, afterwards coming to Ottawa to be in readiness for the next session of parliament. To-day Mr. Gordon had an interview with Hon. John Haggart, postmaster-general, with a view of obtaining better postal facilities in the district of Vancouver. As ministers always do, Mr. Haggart promised to carefully consider the matter. If he, however, does not give it better consideration than he gave the unpopular changes he has introduced in the postal system already, it would be better undone. The name of John Haggart can never be associated with adding lustre or usefulness to the portfolio he enjoys, and which was won, not at the point of the bayonet, but at the toe of the boot.

BAPTIST CONVENTION.

The Baptist convention has just closed a four days' session here yesterday. The meeting was one of the most successful yet held dy that earnest working and fast growing denomination. The attendance was large, and the amount of work done equally so. It has always been understood that the Baptists were one of the most radical denominations in Canada—that is speaking of them apart from their religious views. They have certainly earned this title by their action at the meeting held here, when by a vote, with only two dissenting voices, they decided to have their church property taxed the same as any other public property. This, of course, is the view of the convention, but in matters of this kind every church will just act as it pleases. The convention cannot make it compulsory. Abolition of tax-exemptions is a growing question, and it is creditable to the Baptists that they have been the first to express their willingness to pay for the property they hold for religious purposes. Ottawa, more than any other city in Canada, is deprived of an enormous amount of revenue through property being exempt from taxation. There are numerous money making institutions in this town which, under the term religious or educational, that do not pay taxes. Among Protestant denominations there is a large division on this question, many favoring the movement, others opposing it. As for the Roman Catholics they are a solid phalanx against it.

CABINET MEETINGS.

Although there have been daily meetings of the cabinet of late very little political news is obtainable. Much of the minister's time is taken up with preparing for the next session and getting out the blue books. As for cabinet changes there are now less prospects for any than ever, Sir John Macdonald having settled down at the head of the department of railways and canals, although so far he only signs his name to public documents as "acting minister." As a matter of fact he is acting minister of all departments in matters of public importance if I except the one presided over by Sir John Thompson.

THE SENATE.

The aged Senators have been disappearing from their earthly labors rather quickly, one after one, of late and going into a higher parliament. While the Senate itself is a useless and expensive incumbrance on an already heavily taxed people, and while I have often spoke of it as a political morgue, still the Senators are not to blame for this—rather the people. Like all new and popular questions it is the ballot box that must decide its abolition, recompensing in some way whether by retaining their $1000 salaries or otherwise, the present occupants of that chamber. In the meantime there are six vacancies in the senate. In Ontario there are two caused by the death of Senator Plumb, about two years ago, and very recently the demise of Senator Turner, of Hamilton. In New Brunswick death removed Senator Ferguson. In Manitoba a successor has not yet been appointed to Senator Schultz, who was made Lieut.-Governor, while the recent death of Senator Hardisty leaves a vacancy in the Northwest Territories. In Quebec a successor has not been appointed to Mr. Ferrier. These constitute the vacancies. Since prorogation Mr. Edward Murphy, of Montreal, has been appointed to the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Ryan, and in Prince Edward Island Samuel Prouse succeeds Senator Carvell made Lieut.-Governor of that province. So that at present there is a vacancy or vacancies in all the provinces save Nova Scotia, British Columbia and Prince Edward Island. Let them remain vacant is the advice of Verbatim Report.

The following extract, which the Chicago Tribune prints from a report of the examination of a venireman in the Cronin murder case, is worthy of reproduction:

"Who are the defendants?" asked Mr. Longenecker, after the venireman had sworn he knew of no reason why he could not sit as a fair and impartial juror.

"Them," answered the venireman, nodding in the direction of the official reporters.

Mr. Longenecker was not satisfied, and repeated the question.

"The defendants?" repeated the venireman. "Say, don't use such big words."

"No, I won't use big words, but I merely want to know who are the defendants in a trial, the prisoners or the attorneys?"

"Yes, that's it, the attorneys," replied the fair and impartial would be juror, apparently much relieved at the opinion he had uttered.

"Allow me" said Judge McConnell when the bailiffs had threatened to clear the court if the roar of laughter was repeated. "Don't you know who are the defendants in this case? If I should say to you 'the defendants are now on trial,' whom should I mean?"

"That is a little too far for me," replied the venireman, who saw he had made a mistake and wanted time to make another guess.

"When I say 'the defendants on trial are entitled to a fair hearing,' whom do I mean?" repeated Judge McConnell.

"Why, that's the judge, isn't it?" answered the would be juror.

It is from men of this stamp that the defence are striving to have the jury selected. Twelve such imbeciles would be almost certain to disagree.

SIR JOHN AND MISGOVERNMENT.

Sir JOHN MACDONALD could scarcely better have illustrated his cynicism and his dubious opinion of a government by the people and for the people than in his remark that a people may misgovern themselves if they choose. Of course there is no such thing as actual misgovernment, in the sense of a people governing themselves contrary to their judgment. Men govern themselves according to their light. Such, indeed, might be misgovernment from Sir JOHN's point of view, but the fact of its being in accord with the spirit and sentiment of the people, fully up to their comprehension of things, it could not be called misgovernment. It is utterly impossible for man to create a political movement superior to his moral and mental capacity, and conversely, Sir JOHN looking down on the common herd from the sublime heights of his superior intellectuality, finds that Canadians are misgoverning themselves. But such is not the case. Canadians are governing themselves to the best of their ability, and what is on par with their ability cannot be reckoned misgovernment. Sir JOHN conceives himself misgoverned because he has a higher apprehension of government than he can compass. He is superior to his environment. Our own premier is happier as to his political environment than Mr. DEWDNEY's chief. He has majorities to the right of him, and majorities to the left of him, and an Attorney-General after his own heart. There are no isms in British Columbia to distract the public mind and to create factions. It is all one homogeneous cabal, and if "Honest JOHN" cannot attain his ideal it is because he lacks executive ability. But seriously there is something in Sir JOHN's cynicism which might well cause the average elector to pause and reflect, and ask himself if it was not the case that five-eighths of his politics is pure prejudice, a sort of an heirloom handed down from generation to generation. Politics certainly runs in some such groove. Take CROW BAKER for instance. Toryism with him is an heirloom, prejudice. He admits it. He says to himself: I know better, but I am prejudiced, I am a Tory by inheritance. A Tory I was born and a Tory I will die." Now when a few thousand men of this ilk get together, and shape their politics according to their family traditions and their inborn prejudices, misgovernment is the logical consequence. Prejudice usurps the place of reason, and the world in the vicinity of this solid combination stands still. We have misgovernment, or in other words moosebackism. If Sir JOHN had this view of the case in his mind's eye when he said that people have the right to misgovern themselves, he was eminently correct. Politics is a noble art when it is nobly followed, and particularly in the case of free people. The political leader of a free people who for a series of years navigates the ship of state successfully over the turbulent seas of public opinion and finally anchors the craft in a safe haven possesses a degree of ability and tact far in excess of the premiers of despotic governments. The policy of BISMARCK is enforced, if need be, at the point of the bayonet; Sir JOHN MACDONALD's policy must be endorsed by the individual assent of thousands. We are not profound admirers of Sir JOHN, but not having been born a Tory we are necessarily a Liberal, and being a Liberal we can give the devil his due, and so we propound the question, which of the two men, Sir JOHN or BISMARCK, will stand the best with unprejudiced posterity. If the twain should pass away to-day, to-morrow the civilized world would vie in producing the best obituary of BISMARCK, while Sir JOHN's would be confined to England, Canada and the United States. It makes no difference, however. BISMARCK is the exemplar of the sword, Sir JOHN of the pen, and unless human nature undergoes a radical change in the ages to come the persuader of men and not the bully will occupy the highest niche in the pedestal of fame.

GARRULOUS WHEN IT SHOULD BE SILENT.

As we remarked the other day, now that the cabal has gained its point and revels in fancied security, its mouth-piece feels that it can dare to be garrulous. If the Colonist is wise it will hold its tongue. It will let bygones be bygones. It will not hypocritically come to the front and attempt to defend what is indefensible. In regard to its policy, the least that can be said, it has been a negative one. It has maintained a dogged silence when it should have spoken. It has simply contented itself with flat denial of charges, never once vouchsafing reasons. The course the Colonist has pursued from first to last, particularly for two weeks past, reminds us of that of the ostrich which buries its head in the sand in fancied security of its assailants. The danger is now past, it fancies, and it rears its head aloft and declares its rectitude with Pecksniffian vehemence. But voluable as the Colonist is it fails to explain the anomalous action of the Board of Trade, which enunciating trade sentiments diametrically opposed to the policy of the Dominion Government, could see its way clear to support a man who, if silence means anything, is sitting on the reciprocity fence. The fact of the matter is, stripped of Colonistic Pecksniffianism, the game which has been played was a sheer case of bluff. We admire the audacity of the thing, but we would remind the reckless players that it is a game which won't win in the end. In the meantime, we repeat, Pecksniffian argument will avail the Colonist nothing. The public have largely come to understand the situation. They realize that they have invested in Mr. EARLE as in a lottery, and that despite Colonistic professions of good faith, the question for all remains, whether they will draw a prize or a blank.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Captain THOMPSON, of the schooner Challenger, has just returned to San Francisco from a long cruise in the South Sea and along the South American coast. He had in his possession a little black earthenware jar which was taken, with valuable jewellery, from the tomb of one of the Peruvian Incas near Pisaqua. No tinted pottery is made by modern Peruvians, and it is estimated that this jar was made in the time of CORTEZ. The captain also secured one of the Inca's teeth. He visited the battlefield of Tarapaca, where the Chilian and Peruvians met November 17, 1879, and the Peruvians, after losing 4000 men, were forced to retreat, leaving their dead unburied. "In any other country," said the captain, "these unburied corpses would have been reduced in a few weeks to skeletons by wild animals or the elements, but for over 100 miles on either side of the battle ground there is not a spear of grass. There are, consequently, no wild animals, and the bodies remained undisturbed by them. The soil, too, is strongly impregnated with nitrate of soda, and this, in connection with the hot, dry atmosphere, has converted men and horses into perfect mummies. Seen on a bright moonlight night, as I first saw it, the battle appears as if fought but a day or two ago, the colors of the uniforms being still bright, and the steel of their weapons untarnished."

CARIBOO NEWS.

Prospecting Antler and French Creeks—Chlorination Works.

Barkerville, Oct. 25.—Court has been sitting to-day and has disposed of some cases.

Not much of public interest has transpired of late.

Messrs. Woodcock, Morgan, Darpentigny, Blair, Davis, Fiobe, McKay and Dods fitted out a train of ten animals with tools and supplies to try lower Antler about two weeks ago, but after getting down 26 feet had to give it up—too much water. They intend to put machinery on it in the spring and believe the place to be rich. Should they be fortunate enough to strike diggings there, it will infuse new life into the place, as there is plenty of ground. French creek is being prospected by Frank Petrie, Jonah Belanger, Maurice Oriola and Jack Mackay, and great hopes are entertained of finding a new channel. They are running through bedrock and expect to break through next week. The Mason Co. has been pumping all summer, but have not stuck a pick into the ground yet. The Yellow Lion Co. have quit work. The ground on Grouse creek, which has paid well since opening and which is supposed to be the long-lost channel, is panning out better and is now supposed to be a proper channel running through the Heron, Hard-up and Waverly claims. It has paid about 10 ounces a day since it has been opened, and is now doing better, 17 ounces having been taken out yesterday.

The chlorination works are at work again and we may soon expect to hear something of the samples taken there.

The Black Jack is pounding away still, producing about $5 a ton of free gold on the plates.

Joe Mason has gone for his fall supply of cattle.

W. Urquhart, the road boss, is in town and reports the roads in good condition.

We have been having splendid weather, which was expected by our weather "sharp," Newton, having settled that point some time ago.

Anderson and Smith's claim has done about as usual; 3 ounces.

Ned Trewhella and mate have done well on Harvey creek.

The indefatigable Fred Littler still keeps up his lick and is on time with the mail from Kerrisdale.

Teams and pack trains with winter supplies are now the order of the day.

THE BRIDE'S GARTERS.

A Curious Old German Custom Revived at the Recent Wedding.

One curious custom of German tradition, which still survives in the Hohenzollern family, was commemorated in a modified form at the wedding in Athens. In the earlier and ruder ages the best man at a German wedding was allowed to remove the bride's garter when she retired on her wedding night and to keep it as a trophy. A Berlin jeweler has just completed six gold garters set with diamonds to signalize the survival of this ancient custom. The garters are identical in workmanship. Two of these were worn by the princess on her wedding day and the other four will be presented to the four best men at the ceremony as keepsakes. The bride's garters will be sent to a royal museum in Berlin to be added to the collection there of mementoes of other weddings in the Hohenzollern family. The wedding ceremony was one of the most splendid ever witnessed. During the ceremony old Byzantine chants were sung, and immediately afterward the great "Te Deum" was celebrated, in which all the bishops of the country took part, in magnificent vestments. The Duke of Sparta is said to be an ideal lover. He does nothing but talk of his bride, and could scarcely conceal his impatience for the arrival of the marriage day. He is 31 years of age and his bride is 19. The wedding presents were of enormous value, and there is every indication that the marriage will be a happy one, a rare circumstance in the annals of royal alliances.

General Sir John L. A. Simmons, commander of Her Majesty's forces in Malta, has been gazetted a special envoy to the Vatican to confer with the pope with reference to the jurisdiction of the Catholic church in Malta.

Americans Will Reap.

British Columbia, says the West Shore, is beginning to realize the imperative necessity of providing communication between the Canadian Pacific and the Kootenay region toward the United States boundary. The Spokane Northern railway is heading in that direction, and proceeding so rapidly that it will before long drain that British district toward Spokane Falls, and secure to Americans the benefits that must accrue from the development of this Canadian territory. The Americans have the start of their northern neighbors, and they are likely to reap the harvest. Instances of this sort will influence commercial union between the United States and Canada more than all the congressional junketing tours that can be concocted by overworked statesmen.

A PROFOUND YOUNGSTER.

He Enlightens the Assembled Theologians by His Discovery in Profane History.

There was a convention of Sunday school teachers in session at Crystal Lake, and all the teachers of the three counties represented were there. The amount of biblical and theological knowledge they had was something astounding. On the last day of the convention the high chief ranger of the affair announced to the 400 delegates that he would be pleased to have the knowing ones think up some hard questions on subjects pertaining to their work, write them on slips of paper and submit them to him, and that evening, at the last session, which was to be a sort of entertainment, he would answer them. A lot of people wrote their questions and gave them to the great professor, and when evening came he had about fifty good old gnarly problems in his bunch of paper slips.

The evening's exercise began with reading and answering the questions, and though some of them were from away back and very obtuse, the good man who had put himself up there as a mark coped with them successfully and impressed the great gathering with his vast knowledge.

Finally he ran against a question that made him knit his brows. He scowled at it a moment and then laid it aside. When he answered all the rest he picked up this side tracked query and said:

"Here is a question which I confess I am unable to answer. I submit it to the audience, and if any one is able to give the answer I will be glad to hear what it is."

Then he read this query:

"Who was the boy and what was his name who held the basket containing the five loaves and two fishes which fed the multitude?"

Nobody made any effort to answer it, and the professor said:

"It seems that nobody knows any more about it than I do. I will have to call on the person who submitted the question to come forward and answer it. Will you please do so?"

To the great surprise of the 400 people and of his mother as well, Frank Jones, a 12-year-old school boy, got up and modestly walked up the aisle. Everybody looked at him amazed. The professor said:

"Did you submit this question?"

"Yes, sir."

"Can you answer it?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, I am sure everybody will be glad to hear it."

"The boy," said Frank quietly but steadily, "was Ben Ezra, son of Miriam, who was a sister of Philip, one of the twelve disciples."

A murmur of astonishment ran over the audience. Here was something too deep for even the professed theologians in convention assembled. The professor turned to the boy:

"Did you find that in the Bible?"

"No, sir."

"Where, then, did you get it?"

"In Greek history!"

That was the cap sheaf. A lad of thirteen bowling down 400 declared teachers in the Christian cause, and telling them in an unassuming way that he dug the information out of Greek history.

I think it will be well to give this boy room to spread himself when he becomes a man.—Chicago Mail.

An Ophidian Bonanza.

James McCalan, a young man residing on Walnut creek, near Index, Mo., was squirrel hunting. Noticing his dog barking furiously, he went forward. The object of the dog's attention was an enormous black snake, which, when killed, measured fourteen feet nine inches. The reptile stood perfectly erect for about four feet of its length, and seemed unable to move the middle part of its body at all.

Although somewhat abashed by the formidable appearance of the reptile, Jim was not slow to observe that it could not move from the spot where its body seemed bound to the earth, so he picked up a stout club and striking the monster several blows upon its head, which it was waving about in the air, soon dispatched it. He was again astonished when, attempting to raise the monster upon his stick, he was unable to lift it from the ground.

About that time he saw a neighbor on the road. Calling upon him for assistance, they cut the snake open at the place where the immense weight was located. They took from its body an old boot leg thonged together at each end, and containing something so heavy they could scarcely lift it. Great was their surprise and joy when, upon cutting open the boot leg, it was found to be filled with gold coins from $1 up to $20.

The only plausible explanation is this: It is well known by parties living here that during the late war a party of bushwhackers burried a boot leg full of gold somewhere on Walnut creek. The monster was found near a small ravine, where it is supposed the gold was washed out of its hiding place and found by the snake.—St. Louis Republic.

A Photographing Phonograph.

An invention which has already been foreshadowed is reported from Mexico. By speaking in a photophone transmitter, which consists of a highly polished diaphragm, reflecting a ray of light, this ray is set into vibration, and a photograph is made of it on a traveling band of paper. If the image of this photographic tracing is projected by means of an electric arc or oxyhydrogen light upon a selenium receiver, the original speech is then heard.—New York Telegram.

Teaching Children.

Too many children never accomplish anything because they fear both their parents and their teachers. Too many never succeed because they are made to feel they never can. Many a child who is full of animation and life and fun and happiness is made to hate his school and school books, because his teacher does not take the time and trouble to study his disposition, and thus learn how to govern him.—Herald of Health.

The Blooming Heathen.

In China there are no bankrupt laws, but it is considered such a disgrace not to pay your debts in that benighted land that a "beat" is practically drummed out of business. Ah, dear, it will be a long time before we can civilize all these heathen. They have such queer, old fashioned notions about business. However, lest the heathen should be exalted above measure when they get this copy of this paper and read this flattering paragraph, let us add, for their edification, that the only coin of China is the "cash," that it takes 1,500 cash to make a dollar, and that the ignoble, little minded, small souled, greedy heathen actually counterfeit the "cash." Cheer up, Christian brother, we are not so much worse than the heathen, after all.—Bob Burdette.

Taking Good Care of Her Pet.

It is remarkable what an interest some women have in their pet dogs and to what extent they will sometimes go to make their pets comfortable. A few evenings ago the Looker On saw a woman on Washington street take her sack from her back and place it over her pet rat terrier. She wrapped it carefully about the dog and afterward got on board a car which was going to one of the outlying districts. It was an open car and she probably wanted to secure the dog from cold.—Boston Advertiser.

THE ALDERMEN'S MEETING.

Business of the City Attended to by the City Fathers.

The regular weekly meeting of the board of aldermen was held at the city hall last night. Present: His Worship Mayor Grant in the chair, Ald. Coughlan, McKillican, Harrison, Goodacre, Kelly, Wilson and Vigelius.

Routine business having been concluded, City Clerk Dowler read the following

COMMUNICATIONS.

From C. D. Rupp asking for particulars of the city's population, debt, income, etc. Request granted.

From Jones & McNeil asking permission to connect with sewer. Referred to sewerage committee with power to act.

From W. J. McDonald in reference to assessment of his property, and objecting to the same. Received and filed.

From H. F. Heisterman, secretary of N. E. T. & L. Co., in reference to late resignation of Mr. Cowan and appointment of Ald. Wilson in his stead as a director. Spread on the minutes.

From W. M. Chudley in reference to the $1000 donation of the city to the Jubilee Hospital.

Ald. Coughlan said it was time something was done in the matter. If the board intended to give the money it would be best to do it at once, or else say no.

Ald. Wilson moved, and Ald. McKillican seconded, that the amount of $1000 be donated at once to the Jubilee Hospital.

Ald. Vigelius thought $500 was enough and moved in amendment that that sum instead of $1000. Ald. Harrison seconded.

On motion the amendment was carried. Alds. Harrison, Vigelius, Kelly and Goodacre voting aye.

From J. Heywood offering to furnish ornamental shade trees free provided the city would plant them on Government and Douglas streets. The offer was accepted with thanks, the work to be carried out by the street committee.

From John Leahy in reference to bad drainage of his property near Johnson street. Referred to sewerage committee and city surveyor.

From Chas. Ireland asking for the laying of a sidewalk on Coburg street and removal of a fence, calling attention to the fact that he had repeatedly written to the board, and asking for information as to whether his request is to be granted or not.

The mayor was of the opinion that the city had no right to do work on any street not taken over by the city, and on motion the applicant be informed that the city had no power to act, but that certain work near the corner of Coburg and Oswego streets would be attended to.

From Wm. Atkins, in reference to damage to his fence to the amount of $7, and asking it be paid.

Ald. Vigelius stated that the street committee had already granted $2 50 compensation. The communication was received and filed.

From Ebert & Taylor, in reference to assessment of certain church properties; also legal opinions on the licenses of express companies and breweries. Received and referred to the assessor with orders to act as per suggestions.

From J. Gobiel, in reference to construction of a sanitary wharf at Ross Bay. Received and filed.

DISTRICT TELEGRAPH.

The by-law in aid of the Victoria District Telegraph Co., was read a first time.

RIGHT OF WAY.

A resolution that $500 be paid for a right of way along the school reserve between Yates and Fort streets came up, and a lengthy discussion followed.

Ald. Coughlen pointed out that in this particular instance the cutting off the land required for a street left the owner but nine feet, and he thought $500 little enough.

Ald. Wilson spoke against the resolution, stating that it was not a necessary one, as he did not believe in improving private property at the expense of the city; he also objected to taking off a strip of land from the school reserve, which was already small enough.

Ald. Vigelius also spoke against the resolution, he not believing the idea of purchasing property to make new streets.

Ald. McKillican spoke strongly in favor of the resolution, remarking that he was surprised at the action of the aldermen.

On motion the matter was laid over for one week.

DEFERRED BUSINESS

The matter of considering a bonus for a paper mill came up and was laid over until after the meeting.

REPORTS.

The street committee recommended several street improvements. Adopted.

The fire wardens reported the old building on Wharf street near the Occidental block a dangerous nuisance and recommended it be pulled down. Report adopted and the agent or owners be instructed to remove it within seven days.

ASSESSMENT ROLL.

The final assessment roll was adopted for the present year.

The board then adjourned to the mayor's room to discuss the

PAPER MILL BONUS.

The communication was read as follows:

111 Fort Street, Victoria, Oct. 9, 1889.

To His Worship the Mayor and City Council, Victoria, B. C.

GENTLEMEN,—A paper manufactory is about to be erected in this province, which is intended to be a complete process, and to include the production of paper bags and roofing material. The whole of the machinery will be of the most improved construction, and specially designed to make the kinds of paper principally used here. Most of the machinery being a specialty will be brought from England at a great cost.

The motive power, steam boilers and steam engines (about 250 q. h. power) will, however, most probably be made in Victoria. A site for the works has not yet been decided upon (several having been viewed) and whether it will be located in Victoria, Nanaimo or Vancouver, greatly depends on the advantages offered.

Nanaimo has good cheap fuel. Vancouver is well situated for all transit by land or water. Victoria will mean more cost of transit to eastern points and also more cost for fuel, but being the capital city, the first offer is made to her.

In order not to be misunderstood, or occasion loss of time by enquiry, below is stated the main points required to locate in Victoria:

A good site on water front.
Good water and plenty of it.
Good light both by day and night.
Free from taxes for some years.

And as large cash subsidy as you can give. Of course you will use your discretion in the above list, as I don't know if the electric light is controlled by you.

Water and taxes you can however decide; as to a site, if I may be allowed to suggest one, reserve No. 81 would answer admirably. I can assure you there would not be any nuisance in connection with the works, as all the steam engines would be condensing and noiseless. A large number of hands would be employed when in full work, day and night. Natural production of the island would be utilized as far as possible. The works when completed would be one of the most interesting sight of Victoria, as the complete process from the raw material to the finished article in sheet, roll or bag could be viewed.

The advantages from the manufactory will be solely British Columbian, as at present all paper has to be brought from 2000 to 3000 miles by rail. In conclusion I may state the machinery, &c., will cost about $40,000.

Trusting you will only weigh the above proposition and let me know your decision as early as possible.

On behalf of these interested in the works I beg to subscribe myself, your obedient servant,

WM. HEWARTSON.

It was stated that a six-inch pipe would be required for water purposes. It was assumed that this was too much to supply, but it was agreed to meet Mr. Hewartson and come equitable as to the requirements of the proposed mill.

Commendable.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the Cal-Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

A Corrupt System.

Bad blood may corrupt the entire system and cause scrofulous sores, swellings, ulcers, salt rheum, erysipelas, sore eyes and skin diseases, as shingles, tetter, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters purifies the blood and cleanses, tones and purifies the entire system. n1-2w.

Rev. Dr. Bain of Kingston, died yesterday morning, aged 67 years. He was one of the first graduates of Queen's University, and for thirty-five years filled the pulpit of St. Andrew's church at Perth. He was father of Judge Bain, of Winnipeg, and Dr. Bain, of Prince Albert.

—The best form in which electricity is embodied is Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, a sovereign and highly sanctioned specific for rheumatic pains, and a thoroughly reliable remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs, used externally and internally.

—A. Maybee, merchant, Warkworth, writes: "I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public 'one of the best medicines they have ever used;' it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throat, &c., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."

The objects for which the Company is formed are:—To conduct a general tanning, leather, boot and shoe manufacturing business, and to carry on a general trading business, and to purchase and hold and sell real and personal estate for the purposes of the Company, and generally the doing of such acts as are incidental or conducive to the attainment of the objects of the Company.

3. The amount of the capital stock of the Company shall be one hundred thousand dollars, divided into one thousand shares of one hundred dollars each.

4. The time of the existence of the Company shall be thirty years.

5. The number of the Trustees shall be three, and their names are William Smyth, Stephen Fulton McIntosh, and Arthur Heathorn, who shall manage the affairs for the first three months.

6. The principal place of business of the Company shall be in the City of Victoria.

7. A stockholder shall not be individually liable for the debts or liabilities of the Company, but the liability of a stockholder shall be limited to his proportion (based upon the amount of his respective shares) to assessments legally levied, and the charges thereon, if advertised as delinquent during the time that he is a shareholder, upon a share or shares of which he is the holder, as shown by the stockholders' register book of the Company; assessments and charges thereon, when taken collectively, shall not exceed in the aggregate the value in dollars printed or shown upon each share when issued.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals at the City of Victoria, aforesaid, the 19th day of August, A. D. 1889.

WM. SMYTH.
R. F. McINTOSH.
A. HEATHORN.

Goes to Gaol.

Gunner H. R. Sussex, who was ordered by the police court magistrate to pay a fine of $5 for a breach of discipline, was last night arrested and committed to jail for a month unless the fine is sooner paid. It is about three months since the order for payment was made, but Sussex has taken no notice of it.

To Visit Nanaimo.

Mr. Samuel Gough, city clerk, of Nanaimo, has received a telegram from the Governor-General's Secretary, which announces the willingness of the Governor-General to visit Nanaimo on Tuesday next, but with the stipulation that he returns to Victoria the same day. Following is the telegram: To City Clerk: His Excellency proposes visiting Nanaimo, Nov. 5th, returning to Victoria same day. Please inform me if this convenient. Governor-General's Secretary.

Smith-Young.

The Reformed Episcopal Church was again the scene of a brilliant event last evening, when F. C. Smith, of Tacoma, and Miss Hettie Young, eldest daughter of Henry Young of this city, were united in marriage by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Cridge. The charming young bride was given away by her father and was assisted at the altar by her sister, Miss Dora. Miss Maude Smith, sister of the groom, and two little daughters of Capt. and Mrs Chas. Clancy. The groom was supported by his brother. After the ceremony a wedding supper was partaken of at the residence of the bride's father, and after congratulations and good wishes for future welfare the bridal party drove to the steamer North Pacific wishing Mr. and Mrs. Smith a Godspeed on their journey to their new home in Tacoma. The presents given the bride were profuse, embracing everything useful and ornamental. The bride has virtues and accomplishments that go to make a home happy, and Mr. Smith is to be congratulated on his choice.

Masonic Funeral.

The members of Vancouver Quadra Lodge A. F. & A. M., are summoned to attend the funeral of the late Bro. Doane from the Masonic Temple to-morrow (Friday) afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

The First Snow.

The Nanaimo Free Press says that the first fall of snow occurred in that city last night at about eleven o'clock and lasted for five minutes, leaving the sidewalk in some places perfectly white and having all the appearance of winter.

Seal Skins.

Morris Moss has bought the fur catch of the American schooner Challenge of Schome, which consisted of 30 sea otter and about 100 seal skins. The catch of the Mollie Adams, which numbers about 1,500 has also been purchased by Mr. Moss.

An Engineer Dead.

News has been received here of the death of Mr. David Nicholas in New York. Mr. Nicholas was for some months inspector of steamboat boilers of this port. He was well known here, and had many friends who will learn with regret of his death.

For the South.

The Umatilla sailed for San Francisco at one o'clock this afternoon with the following passengers from this port: Geo. N. Haas, A. Hoeppner, Rev. J. B. H. Hewitt, A. H. Terwilliger, Hon. T. B. Humphreys, Miss Johnson, Miss Bessie Johnson, Mrs. Lane and child.

Butter Importation.

The largest importation of butter from the east ever arriving at one time came through last night on the Islander. There were 580 tubs, the major part of which was consigned to R. P. Rithet & Co. One hundred and seventy-one drums of cheese also came through.

A Unique Feature.

A novel suggestion was made by an old pioneer to-day. He said that had he thought of it he would have arranged for a company of old timers to march in the procession in honor of the Governor-General. A hundred or so of the old veterans would have been a unique feature of the procession.

Died Among Strangers.

A boy named David Yeomans, aged 9 years, died at the Royal Columbian hospital, Westminster, on Monday of convulsions. The deceased was a native of British Columbia, but had no relatives around his dying bed. The remains were interred Tuesday afternoon in the cemetery at Sapperton, says Truth.

An Oversight.

A Wharf street wholesale house, the head of which is a prominent government official, had the front decorated this afternoon with English flags and scarlet table covers. One of the latter still had the price tag affixed, which set forth that the quality was "A," price $3 60. Several audible smiles were caused by the oversight.

Struck for More Money.

Several laborers who have been employed on the arch at the corner of Yates and Government streets struck this morning for an increase of pay. They had been receiving $2 50 per diem, and considered that it was not enough for working aloft in the rainy weather. Mr. Hayward refused to accede to their demands, and the strikers were replaced by other men.

Death in the Midst of Life.

The many friends of Mrs. C. D. Rand will be shocked to learn of that lady's death, she having expired last night at Vancouver. Only yesterday morning a son was born, but puerperal fever setting in she succumbed to it. Mrs. Rand had only been married a year and was the daughter of Collector Clute, of Westminster. The sympathy of all is extended to the sorrowing husband and parents.

Marine Gossip.

Spratt's Ark is to return to Victoria shortly.

The Barbara Boscowitz arrived from the north this morning.

On her last trip down the coast the City of Puebla broke two blades of her propeller.

Capt. G. Collins' new schooner was launched yesterday. As she took the water she was christened the Sea Lion by Mrs. Collins.

From the North.

The steamer Barbara Boscowitz arrived from Skeena river and way ports this morning. She brings 3500 cases of salmon from the N. P. C. Co., a lot of box lumber, furs, etc., and the following passengers: Messrs. J. M. D. Alexander, J. Conant, Geo. Atkinson, Jas. McLaughlin, W. Skillen, H. Redgrave, J. Rudlin and H. Ashby, and a large number of Indians. Much rainy weather is reported, but no news of consequence.

Meeting of County Judges.

On November 8th there will be a meeting in New Westminster of all the county court judges for the purpose of discussing and arranging rules of procedure. Circulars have been sent to members of the legal profession asking for suggestions in reference to the new rules. In future a large majority of all cases will be disposed of in the county courts, and it is to facilitate the transaction of business of the courts that the new rules will be discussed.

Fats on Style.

An Indian chief of the Tsimpheean tribe, named "Shakes," from Kitkatlah, came down on the Boscowitz this morning. "Shakes" has $3600 which he is to expend in buying presents for a great potlatch to be soon given by him. His dignity as a chief is enhanced by the fact that with him travels a body guard of four braves dressed in a gaudy uniform, whose whole duty it is to see that "Shakes" doesn't get shook.

To Sleep Here.

By last night's steamer the remains of the late L. L. Doane were brought to Victoria for interment. The funeral will be conducted by the Free Masons, the deceased having been a member of the order, and will take place from the Masonic temple at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. The body was lying in a handsome casket in the lodge room to day that friends might be able to take a last look at the dead face. From 10 a. m. Friday until the hour of the funeral it can also be seen.

New Steamer Coming.

The steamer City of Kingston, recently purchased by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company in New York to run on the Sound in the Washington Steamboat Transportation Company's line, is being fitted up at Newburgh, New York, for the voyage around Cape Horn. Captain Nicholas, of the steamer W. K. Merwin, of Seattle, will bring the boat around. It is expected that two and a half months will be consumed in the voyage. It is understood that other boats are to be secured for the Washington Company by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company.

Coming Concert.

Great is Liberatti, says the Saratogian. Without doubt his band is the finest ever heard in Saratoga Springs. In two concerts at Congress Spring park yesterday the perfect discipline and thorough musical knowledge of the men were wonderfully manifested to the great delight of the large audiences. The two programmes included many very trying selections, but it was in the most difficult pieces that the fifty instruments were handled to best effect, and the real art of the musicians was manifest. The band will be at the Victoria theatre on Friday and Saturday nights.

Wealth Cannot Buy It.

Health is not purchasable. The saddened, soured dyspeptic, or the bilious billionaire suffer, despite their wealth. Burdock Blood Bitters is a rational remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, scrofula, debility, etc.; and every complaint arising from indigestion or bad blood. a1-2w

BEFORE THE FOOTLIGHTS.

McKee-Rankin in "The Runaway Wife."

Commencing Monday, at the Victoria Theatre, Nov. 4th, McKee Rankin offers for the first two nights of his engagement "The Runaway Wife." It is a beautiful domestic play in five acts, and will be interpreted by a powerful company and illustrated with magnificent scenery. The history of our court gives ample evidence of the "differences," "incompatibilities of temper," "non-support," "family interferences," "domestic broils," "misunderstandings," "jealousies," "misplaced confidences," and the thousand natural shocks that married life is heir to, and the novelist and dramatist find ample incidents and beautiful fields for their labors in "marriages and divorces." "The Runaway Wife" exemplifies much of what has occurred, and what might, could, would and should occur in any well-regulated and properly governed household. This play is not put forth as an argument against marriage, but rather as a lesson to those who may need it to have strict confidence in each other and a perfect understanding.

Speaking of this play, an exchange says: "There is an expression in the face of a good married man who has a good wife that a bachelor's cannot have. It is indescribable. You can see that his broad breast is a pillow for somebody's head. No one ever mistakes the good married man. He can protect all the unprotected females and make himself generally agreeable to the ladies, and yet never leave a doubt on any mind that there is a precious little woman at home worth all the world to him."

THAT ARCH.

A Few Opinions Gathered on the Streets To-Day.

The arch on the corner of Yates and Government streets has been stared at all morning, and next to His Excellency and suite is the thing probably most talked about to-day. A number of citizens casually met by a TIMES reporter on the street this morning, were asked what they thought of it.

Postmaster Shakespeare—"I don't like it at all."

W. J. Taylor—"It shows we are not very green (?) here."

Rev. J.E. Starr—"Is it nearly finished? Umph!"

Frank Campbell—"Don't bother me about it."

Ex-Mayor Fell—"It's a fraud; just what I thought."

Thos. J. Barnes—"Fine!"

Dixi H. Ross—A smile and a wink expressed it.

Capt. Roop, of the Norcross—"It's shabby."

M. Humber—"Bah!"

Morris Moss—"I'll tell you when it's finished."

Alex. Phillips—"I subscribed 50 cents this morning for leather medals for somebody."

E. B. Carmichael—"It's a shame."

Alex. McKeown—"It's a big farce."

John Teague—"I'm amazed."

Contractor McIntosh—"They ought to pull it down."

Emil A. Hart—"As long as the wind don't blow it down, all right."

W. K. Bull—"Their intentions are good."

J. Johnson, of Johnson, Walker & Flett—"Plenty of scaffold, but little arch."

Geo. Riley—"The mistake was in not

A Stranger—"It looks like a gallows, hang me if it don't."

J. Montague Leet—"Way up," with a knowing smile.

Professor Sharpe—"I am thankful that I am an American."

commencing it earlier.

The General Public—"Wratz."

WHY IS THIS?

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir,—The compiler for Henderson's Directory, who is making his round of the city, tried to ascertain the full Christian name of one of our business men holding a prominent position.

Not succeeding with the gentleman, the directory man proceeds to the gentleman's residence, and obtains the information under protest from the wife. It is said the directory man represents also a debt collecting agency.

The information is of no practical use to any one, but when objection is made why does the man persist in annoying people? Not every one cares to have his name printed in full in a directory, especially business men. PRIVACY.

PUBLIC INDIGNATION.

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir—The first impression of a stranger upon visiting the corner of Yates and Government streets would be that there should be a public execution, the chief actor being the undertaker, and judging from the numerous remarks made by the indignant spectators few would regret such an occurrence. Although not wishing to disparage the endeavors of the decoration committee, I think it a pity that a contract in which the credit of the city is at stake should be given to a person who has shown that the honor of the city is nothing compared to the almighty dollar. Certainly the committee cannot, in justice to the citizens whose money they are using, accept the structure in its present state. ANTI-MOSSBACK.

THE NEW REGULATIONS.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—It seems to me that the Customs Department of the Dominion government has acted in quick response to the representations of the Board of Trade in formulating and issuing the regulations which are creating so much consternation amongst shippers, and which Mr. D. W. Higgins discussed so excitedly in this morning's Colonist.

If the Board of Trade failed to state its wishes clearly enough for the Minister of Customs to understand what it wanted, or if Wharf street jealousies have been the means of foisting untoward restrictions upon local trade, it is clearly unfair that the government should be blamed. Let the Board of Trade first find out what it really wants for the permanent good of the whole community and then vigorously seek it, uninfluenced by local jealousies, and petty exhibitions of disloyalty H.

RIPPING UP THE STREETS.

To the Editor of The Times:

Dear Sir,—Allow me through your journal to express my sentiment on the, in my estimation, utter contempt shown me as a ratepayer, besides a number of others who contribute to the funds of the city as well as myself.

Since June 24th, the street in front of my premises has been in an almost impassable condition. First, the sewer contractor, after keeping the street open with a deep ditch and excavation for about three months, has been allowed to fill it in entirely to suit his own convenience, without any regard for those living on the line of the work and having to cross the road daily.

Next, the gas company came along, doing the same, only with this difference, they did close the trench as quickly as possible, but how did they leave the street on the surface?

Is it possible that there is no law to compel those ripping up our usually good streets to make them at once restore them as they found them?

Another grievance: Half of the time the electric light at this particular corner refuses to shed its light at all as was the case last evening (Wednesday).

Victoria, Oct. 30. WM. JENNER.

Thirty Years Ago.

Over thirty years ago there was placed upon the market a remedy designed to relieve pain and capable of either external or internal use. From the first it has had wonderful success, and hundreds testify that Hagyard's Yellow Oil cures rheumatism, sore throat, sprains, croup, cuts, bruises and all pains and aches.

Judge Bagbie, Bishop Hills, Archdeacon Scriven, Senator McDonald, Col. Stevens, Hon. C. Pooley, Hon. John Robson, Mr. Thos. Earle, M. P., Mr. F. S. Barnard, Hon. J. H. Turner, Robert Ward, Esq., R. P. Rithet, Esq., D. R. Harris, Esq., W. C. Ward, Esq., J. H. Todd, Esq., Rev. A. Beanlands and others. His Excellency, after passing before the companies of artillery for inspection with his aides, entered the carriage in waiting with Lady Stanley, Mayor Grant and Colonel Prior taking a seat in the same. The artillery formed fours, turned to the right, moved forward, wheeled to the right and marched up to Wharf street headed by the band, where they halted. The Governor-General's carriage followed. As it left the wharf three rounds of hearty cheers were given which were repeated on the way to the corner of Yates and Government streets.

THE ADDRESS.

The procession at once moved up Yates street, halting when the carriage containing His Excellency arrived under the arch at the corner of Government street, where His Worship Mayor Grant read the following address:

To His Excellency, the Right Honorable Sir Frederick Arthur Stanley, Baron Stanley of Preston, in the County of Lancaster, in the Peerage of the United Kingdom; Knight Grand Cross of the most honorable Order of the Bath, Governor-General of Canada and Vice-Admiral of the same.

May it please Your Excellency: We, the Mayor and municipal council, on behalf of the citizens of Victoria, British Columbia, desire to extend to Your Excellency and Lady Stanley a most cordial and hearty welcome to this city.

We hail with pleasure the presence in the capital of this province of an illustrious representative of our Most Gracious Sovereign, and earnestly express to Your Excellency our loyalty and devotion to the throne and person of Her Majesty the Queen.

It is a source of gratification to us that Your Excellency and Lady Stanley have been enabled to traverse this vast Dominion of Canada, from the east to the west, through changing scenes, on lands of steel laid by Canadian energy and enterprise, believing as we do that the Canadian Pacific Railway is the most important factor in cementing as one the various provinces of the Dominion of Canada, and in binding together the British commercial interests of the Occident and Orient, while giving increased facilities for the defence of our common flag.

We are gratified that the same prosperity which has beamed on the eastern provinces has cast some of its brightest rays on British Columbia, a province of illimitable possibilities in minerals, timber, fish and agriculture.

In conclusion we beg to add, that we most sincerely regret that Your Excellency and Lady Stanley cannot make at present a more extended sojourn in this land of mild and equable climate and scenery, but fondly hope that before your term of office shall have expired, we may again be honored with your presence; that your visit to this western part of Her Majesty's Dominions may in future days be referred to by you as a pleasant episode of your residence in the Dominion of Canada, and that happiness may attend you throughout your distinguished lives.

HIS EXCELLENCY'S REPLY.

His Excellency after having received the address, stepped to the front of the stand and said that he thanked the people of Victoria from the bottom of his heart for the kind and hearty reception given him; they were aware that he was nearly at the completion of a journey of many thousands of miles, during which he had visited every province of this vast Dominion, but he found no more loyal reception than the one he received here. He hoped that the visit would help to perpetuate the bonds of friendship and brotherhood, which now bound it together; he considered the Canadian Pacific Railway a great factor in so binding the Dominion, a factor which bound it morally as well as physically, making each province in touch with the whole, and all feel the union of themselves in the struggle of advancement which goes on and grows. He could not give a set speech but would conclude by thanking the citizens for the magnificence of the display and the heartiness of their greeting; for the expressions of loyalty to himself, and to him as a representative of the Queen. On Lady Stanley's behalf he also thanked them, and he would add that although he had visited many capitals he could only say that—but he would not draw a comparison—that none surpassed it in its loyalty. He could assure the citizens that although it was the last, it was far from being the least, and that Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen would be told by him of the manner as well as the matter of his welcome, and also told that she had no more loyal subjects than those who resided in the city which so proudly bore her name.

After the address and reply, Ald. Harris's little daughter stepped forward and presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers, the gift being gracefully acknowledged by His Excellency.

His Excellency then entered the carriage, the procession reformed, and proceeded to Government House.

THE FIREMEN'S DISPLAY.

The fire laddies made by far the best display in the procession. The two steam fire engines were decorated with many ribbons, evergreens and flowers to the last degree of perfection; the hook and ladder truck and the horse hose reel were fixed up in splendid style, the combination of colors being tasty in the extreme. The regulars were all in uniform. The James Bay boys wearing white flannel shirts and dark blue trousers, with their hose reel handsome with a wreath of flowers, were also noticeable. Praise was bestowed on all sides at the excellent turnout of the department.

THE DECORATIONS.

The line of march from the Hudson Bay wharf, along Wharf, Yates, Government and Fort streets, was nicely festooned on either side with evergreens, the strings being caught up here and there on the electric light and telephone poles, and the effect being very pretty. At the junction of Yates and Government streets a huge structure was erected, the main pillars resting on the four corners of the square formed at the intersection. The roof was dome-shaped with a flag-staff in the centre. The timbers were partly covered with green and lighted up here and there with gay-colored bunting. On the side facing Yates street was the motto, extending completely across, "God Bless Our Wide Dominion."

On the east side of the arch at Yates and Government streets and inside of it, raised seats were erected for the school children. Seats were also erected on Government, on the Adelphi building side of the street, and also on Government on the north side of Yates, which were occupied by ladies and children. Surmounting the seats erected within the arch and looking down Yates street, was the word "WELCOME," while in front of them was the platform on which the civic address of welcome was presented. The seats and platform were encircled with small flags of various hues.

On Government street, looking north, the words, "IN THE NAME OF THE SOVEREIGN, GREETING," and on Government street, looking south, the words, "123 WEST AND STILL IN BRITAIN." The display of flags and general decorations made along Government street were very pretty. The ships in the harbor flung magnificent streamers to the breeze, reaching from the bowsprits over the topmast heads and down to the end of the main boom. In fact a more elaborate display of bunting has probably never been seen in Victoria.

A Feminine Priest.

A short time ago a young student applied for admission as pupil to the priests' seminary at Kalocsa, Hungary and being duly provided with examination certificates, was at once received. The new pupil led exactly the same life as the other inmates of the establishment, and showed a marked disposition for study. A few days ago Cardinal Haynald visited the seminary, and in the garden met the newcomer, who bowed respectfully, but, contrary to custom, did not kiss the cardinal's hand. His eminence not only noticed the omission, but it led him to examine the candidate priest somewhat closer. The effeminate face of the young student turned scarlet under the cardinal's scrutinizing gaze, whereupon the prelate uttered a few words in a low tone that caused the former to return quickly to the house. Five minutes afterward this mysterious personage had left the premises, and has not since gone back. Rumor says the individual was a lady, who felt an irresistible inclination to become a priest.
